January Volunteer Projects

Lucas: Medtronics won't be open January 16th because of the holiday, so we need to think up at least 3 dates that would work for us to go and do the bake sale.

Mandy: Wednesdays work best for Lynn and I. How about February 1, 8, and 15? We need people to work from about 4-5:30 after-school?

Lucas: Remember to wrap things neatly and try and bring non-perishables.

Lynn: And remember to buy daffodils for the American Cancer Society on the YAB website, created by Joi!

VII. Postcard Project

4 postcards have been turned in so far

Isabella: I gave some to a friend's mom who runs an art camp, and her kids have completed them and she just has them with her.

Joi: After the Parade of Lights, Brooke and I handed out postcards and information to many Girl Scout troops and their moms who were very interested. Walking around afterwards with postcards was very effective.

Mandy: Let me know if you guys want a stack of postcards to hand out.

Megan: Let's make a list of Louisville businesses to inform about our project...coffee shops, The Book Cellar, the ice rink...

Lynn: I used to help with the Young Artist's Exhibit, so I can ask some of the local BVSD school art teacher's to talk to their kids about it.

Isabella will talk to the owners of the above Louisville businesses and hand out flyers created by Kriska for the library.

Eliza and Sam will ask local teachers from Coal creek Elementary and Louisville Middle School.

Mandy: Stop by the Rec. Center/my office to get more cards.

VIII. Monarch Tunnel

Joi: I talked to the security guards and they said they did monitor that for a while, but things have gotten better and no one hangs out there anymore. He also said they can only act on it if the middle school files complaints about the tunnel causing trouble for their kids.

Daisy emailed Kriska about the situation, and reiterated where it's located and how it affects the middle school kids.
