

LOUISVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY MAKERSPACE

Makerspace User Agreement

By using this space, you agree to the following terms of use:

- I am financially responsible for the Makerspace equipment that I reserve, check out, or use. If any piece of equipment is lost or damaged during my session, I will pay the replacement cost of the item.
- I understand that the space is intended for digital content creation and creative work only.
- I am responsible for properly saving my project, and the Library and its staff are not responsible for any loss of data that may occur.
- I understand and agree to abide by the posted Makerspace policies, including:
 - No food or drinks
 - Cleaning up after myself
 - No cell phone use (except for that required for content creation)
 - Being respectful to other patrons
 - All other general Library behavior and policies
- I understand that the Makerspace lab holds two workstations that may both be in use by separate groups or individuals. I agree to work respectfully with others who share the room with me.
- I understand that while basic Makerspace help may be available immediately from Library staff, advanced help will be available by appointment and availability only.
- If a computer or other piece of equipment is not working, I will see a Library staff member for help.
