

“Number Please!”

Telephones and the Louisville Exchange

This 20-30 minute presentation teaches students about the history of telephones with a focus on the Louisville Telephone Exchange. We will look at the way technology has changed our ability to call for help and learn about the roles of telephone operators in the local community. An activity with hands-on phones allows students to interact with history.

“Ring, Ring.”

A hands-on trunk of rotary phones and early cell phones is brought to all presentations.

Megan Huelman

Museum Technician
Louisville Historical Museum

Contact meganh@louisvilleco.gov to schedule presentations or for more information.