Your guide to

FlexRide

What is FlexRide?

RTD's FlexRide is a neighborhood bus service that travels within select RTD service areas. FlexRide reflects the flexible nature of a service designed with each community's needs in mind.

Anyone can catch FlexRide to connect to other RTD bus or train services at stations, bus stops, and Park-n-Rides.

You can also get direct access to shopping malls, schools, businesses, recreational centers, libraries and more.

FlexRide is an easy solution for your first mile, last mile, and so much more.

3 easy ways to ride

Reservations

To make a onetime reservation, book online at rtd-denver.com/flexride or call the FlexRide in your area.

Subscription service

Use our subscription service to schedule recurring trips at the same time and location. Once you've subscribed online, we'll pick up and drop off on your schedule for 180 days until you renew or cancel your subscription.

FlexRide routes

In some areas, we have established regularly scheduled times through FlexRide areas to schools, major activity centers, light rail stations, and Park-n-Rides where no reservation is required. Just wait at any FlexRide stop and we'll pick you up.

Fares and much more

Go anywhere within a FlexRide service area for just the cost of a Local fare.
