SBA To Provide Economic Injury Disaster Loans For Coronavirus Related Economic Disruptions

U.S. Small Business Administration
The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering designated states and territories low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19).

Upon a request received from a state’s or territory’s Governor, SBA will issue under its own authority, as provide by the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplement Appropriations Act that was recently signed by the President, an Economic Injury Disaster Loan declaration.
What businesses are eligible to apply?

SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loans (or working capital loans) are available to small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small aquaculture businesses and most private non-profit organizations.

This includes:

• Businesses directly affected by the disaster
• Businesses that offer services directly related to the businesses in the declaration
• Other businesses indirectly related the industry that are likely to be harmed by losses in their community

(Example: Manufacturer of widgets may be eligible as well as the wholesaler and retailer of the product.)
What is the criteria for a loan approval?

Credit History - Applicants must have a credit history acceptable to SBA.

Repayment – SBA must determine that the applicant business has the ability to repay the SBA loan.

Eligibility - The applicant business must be physically located in a declared county and suffered working capital losses due to the declared disaster, not due to a downturn in the economy or other reasons.
SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loan
Terms

How much can I borrow?

Eligible entities may qualify for loans up to $2 million.

The interest rates for this disaster are 3.75 percent for small businesses and 2.75 percent for nonprofit organizations with terms up to 30 years.

Eligibility for these working capital loans are based on the size (must be a small business) and type of business and its financial resources.

How can I use the loan funds?

These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits or for expansion.
What are the collateral requirements?

• Economic Injury Disaster Loans over $25,000 require collateral.

• SBA takes real estate as collateral when it is available.

• SBA will not decline a loan for lack of collateral, but requires borrowers to pledge what is available.
What kinds of small businesses can apply?

Examples of eligible industries include but are not limited to the following: hotels, recreational facilities, charter boats, manufactures, sports vendors, owners of rental property, restaurants, retailers, souvenir shops, travel agencies and wholesalers.

What other criteria is involved?

The applicant business must have a physical presence in the declared disaster area. An applicant’s economic presence alone in a declared area does not meet this requirement. The physical presence must be tangible and significant. Merely having a P.O. Box in the disaster area would not qualify as a physical presence.
SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDLs) funds come directly from the U.S. Treasury.

Applicants do not go through a bank to apply. Instead apply directly to SBA’s Disaster Assistance Program at: DisasterLoan.sba.gov

There is no cost to apply.

There is no obligation to take the loan if offered.

The maximum unsecured loan amount is $25,000.

Applicants can have an existing SBA Disaster Loan and still qualify for an EIDL for this disaster, but the loans cannot be consolidated.
Basic Filing Requirements

- Completed SBA loan application (SBA Form 5).
- Tax Information Authorization (IRS Form 4506T) for the applicant, principals and affiliates.
- Complete copies of the most recent Federal Income Tax Return.
- Schedule of Liabilities (SBA Form 2202).
- Personal Financial Statement (SBA Form 413).

Other Information may also be requested.

Although a paper application and forms are acceptable, filing electronically is easier, faster and more accurate.
Additional Filing Requirements

Other information that may be requested:

- Complete copy, including all schedules, of the most recent Federal income tax return for principals, general partners or managing member, and affiliates (see filing requirements for more information).
- If the most recent Federal income tax return has not been filed, a year-end profit-and-loss statement and balance sheet for that tax year.
- A current year-to-date profit-and-loss statement.
- Additional Filing Requirements (SBA Form 1368) providing monthly sales figures. (This is especially important for Economic Injury Disaster Loans.)
Ineligible Entities

What are some of the businesses that are ineligible for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan?

• Agricultural Enterprises - If the primary activity of the business (including its affiliates) is as defined in Section 18(b)(1) of the Small Business Act, neither the business nor its affiliates are eligible for EIDL assistance.

• Religious Organizations

• Charitable Organizations

• Gambling Concerns (Ex: Concerns that derive more that 1/3 of their annual gross revenue from legal gambling activities)

• Casinos & Racetracks (Ex: Businesses whose purpose for being is gambling (e.g., casinos, racetracks, poker parlors, etc.) are not eligible for EIDL assistance regardless of 1/3 criteria above.)
How to Apply

SBA’s Customer Service Representatives are ready to serve.

- Applicants may apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via SBA’s secure website at https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela.

- Paper loan applications can be downloaded from www.sba.gov/disaster. Completed applications should be mailed to: U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingsport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

- Disaster loan information and application forms may also be obtained by calling the SBA’s Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for the deaf and hard-of-hearing) or by sending an email to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.
Assistance From SBA Partners

Free assistance with reconstructing financial records, preparing financial statements and submitting the loan application is available from any of SBA’s partners: Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs), SCORE, Women’s Business Centers (WBC), and Veteran’s Business Outreach Centers and local Chambers of Commerce.

For the nearest office, visit: https://www.sba.gov/local-assistance
Submit Your Application As Soon As Possible

Recheck the filing requirements to ensure that all the needed information is submitted.

The biggest reason for delays in processing is due to missing information. Make sure to complete all filing requirements before submitting the application and forms.

If more funds are needed, applicants can submit supporting documents and a request for an increase. If less funds are needed, applicants can request a reduction in the loan amount.

If the loan request is denied, the applicant will be given up to six months in which to provide new information and submit a written request for reconsideration.

Statements Required by Laws and Executive Orders

To comply with legislation passed by the Congress and Executive Orders issued by the President, federal agencies, including the Small Business Administration (SBA), must notify you of certain information. You can find the regulations and policy implementing these laws and Executive Order in Title 13, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Chapter I, or our Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). In order to provide the required notices, the following is a brief summary of the various laws and Executive Orders that affect SBA’s Disaster Loan Programs. A list of laws can be found at disasterhelp.gov.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT (5 U.S.C. § 552)

This law provides, with some exceptions, that you must make records or portions of records contained in our files available to persons requesting them. The record pertains only to administrative information on our disaster loan programs and other information such as statistics on borrowers and lenders, delinquency, and any other information that the Administrator, his or her delegate, or any individual who succeeds to his or her position, determines is not related to personal, or otherwise protected, information pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4).

两 Way right to view and obtain certain records from the administrator of a loan program.

Any person or entity that receives or makes copies of any personal information that he or she has in his or her files. Any personal information in your file that is retrieved to individual identifiers, such as name, social security number, and other identifiers is protected by the Privacy Act, which means you are able to deny disclosure of the information to anyone unless the information is related to ongoing proceedings and is made available for use as a public record under the Freedom of Information Act. The Privacy Act permits the preparation of a new record containing only the name and address of the individual.

The Privacy Act authorizes SBA to make certain “routine uses” of information protected by the Act. One such routine use for SBA’s loan purposes is to provide information about the individual borrower, his or her family, or the property securing the loan, to other agencies to ensure, maintain, or improve safety, standard, or quality of services delivered by SBA or to prevent or detect fraud, abuse, or misuse of any SBA funds.

The Privacy Act also permits the preparation of a new record containing only the name and address of the individual.

In the event of the use of financial information, you are not required to provide social security numbers. (See the information under Debt Collection Act below.) The use of social security numbers to distinguish between people with a similar or the same name is for credit decisions and to ensure the accuracy of the financial assistance provided. SBA may reject, terminate, or vary any program or its terms if a borrower fails to provide the required social security numbers.

Note: Any person or entity that receives or makes copies of any personal information that he or she has in his or her files. Any personal information in your file that is retrieved to individual identifiers, such as name, social security number, and other identifiers is protected by the Privacy Act, which means you are able to deny disclosure of the information to anyone unless the information is related to ongoing proceedings and is made available for use as a public record under the Freedom of Information Act. The Privacy Act also permits the preparation of a new record containing only the name and address of the individual.

This law requires us to aggressively collect any delinquent loan payments and to require you to furnish your borrower identification number to us when you apply for a loan. If you fail to furnish a loan and do not make payments when they become due, we may take one or more of the following actions (that list may not be exhaustive):

- Foreclose the lien on the property securing the loan.
- Take appropriate action to collect debts owed to you from the borrower.
- Take action to recover any amounts owed to you from the borrower.
